

United's Sustainable Community - An Island Solution

Robert Divers

CEO of United Interests

Robert Divers is the CEO of United Interests and the founder of United Power, developer of renewable energy and clean thermal power projects. Prior to United, Mr. Divers served as the Managing Principal of PORTsmart Energy LLC, where he was responsible for the development of new industrial, power, telecommunications and water utilities in the State of Washington.

Mr. Divers will speak about modern biomass plantations that supply refineries and converts purpose-grown biomass. These plantations create local opportunities, feedstocks for renewable fuels, chemical compounds, concentrated nutrients and hydroponic vegetables. United seeks to syndicate large agricultural partners, investment grade technology, and clean energy assets to solve and revolutionize the world's farming, food and energy concerns.

Light refreshments will be provided.
